

Healing Gel

What?

Healing Gel is a 100% natural topical with an Aloe Gel base designed to assist with the relief of inflammation, acute aches and pains and skin irritations.

Why?

The soothing homeopathic ingredients contained in this pure and versatile product have been shown to be effective at relieving the above ailments. Notably, Arnica montana, Hypericum perforatum (also known as St. John's Wort) and Calendula officinalis (more commonly known as Marigold) have long been used to aid in the relief of minor burns, bruises, skin irritations, rashes, inflammation and pain caused from acute trauma. These ingredients are contained in an Aloe Gel Base providing added relief for skin conditions and burns.

This virtually odorless gel is an excellent natural alternative to chemically-based, over-the-counter pain creams and ointments. Every natural home remedy kit should contain Healing Gel!
